++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Windy with rain spreading south.

Today:
A cloudy start and turning widely windy with coastal gales in the north. Feeling mild as rain spreads south through the afternoon. Skies clearing after it moves through, though remaining windy. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Tonight:
Rain fully clearing to the south in the early evening. Occasional clear spells overnight and remaining windy with a continued risk of gales along northern coasts. Feeling chilly. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Sunday:
A dry day with sunny spells and generally feeling fresher than Saturday. Remaining breezy through the day, but winds finally easing into the evening. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Increasingly cloudy on Monday with patchy rain later. Turning milder on Tuesday as rain perhaps develops more widely, this tending to clear south early on Wednesday with brighter conditions following.
